

AAMC Learner Summit

Are you pursuing a career in academic medicine, or academic research? Then this summit is for you! The Association of American Medical Colleges (AAMC) is now accepting applications from learners across the nation to participate in the first-ever 2023 AAMC Learner Summit. Hosted by AAMC's Organizations of Student and Resident Representatives, this inaugural summit aims to connect learners on topics related to critical issues impacting academic medicine, with a keen focus on learner professional and leadership development.
